President’s Message – May —2024

Dear Members and Fellow Patriots

You were introduced to the term “Christian Nationalism” at our ARWF General Meeting and Luncheon on Tuesday April 23, 2024. I would like to give you more information and background on “Christian Nationalism”, where it came from and what it means.

I will post references for you at the end of this message, so you can dive in deeper if you care to. As I said at our meeting, I feel we must stay informed, especially during this very chaotic time in our history and because it is a critical Presidential election year, where the left will do and say whatever it takes to stay in power.

President Biden must run on something, but he can’t. The economy is in a shambles, the state of the world is increasingly becoming more chaotic, our country is seeing more angry protests on our college campuses, the border is out of control and wide open to whatever and whomever wants to cross it. The only thing Biden can do is run against something, as “by Stephen Wolf. Mr. Wolf wrote a very scholarly defense and the history of the “Christian Nationalism” so Pastor Wilson embraced it to that extent. He loves his country, and he is a Christian.

A few weeks ago, one of the talking heads from MSNBC said that anybody who believes that our rights come from God and not from Congress and not from the Supreme Court is a “Christian Nationalist”. Basically, as Pastor Wilson puts it, “if there is no God above the society or the State, then the State becomes God. This was the original sin, remember? Satan told Eve she would be like God, knowing good and evil.

If the State becomes God, then it assumes the omnipresence of God. In other words, Big Brother is watching us with cameras at every intersection and in our homes. Listening to us and tracking us on our phones, computers, and TVs. The State is everywhere. Soon AI will be in everything and everywhere.

The Biden campaign will attack and persecute us as a threat to Democracy with this phrase “Christian Nationalism”, linking Christians to the Maga Movement and of course to the Presidential Campaign for President Trump.

I believe truth and knowledge are given to us by God for our protection. The more aware and knowledgeable we are, the stronger we are together. Please pray for our United States and Christians everywhere. Please hold in your prayers our Jewish people here and abroad. May you all safe and happy until we meet again in May.

Becky Hallett
ARWF President

Raquel, Kyndal’s Mom and Kyndal’s Aunt, Cori, came to our meeting and told us all about their precious daughter and niece, Kyndal. They talked about the journey getting into a clinical trial and going to Georgia once a month for a clinical trial for her brain cancer. She is such a beautiful and strong young girl. She is so thankful for the many friends, family, and the community for their help.

SPEAKER FOR MAY WILL BE SHERI HAVER:

Sheri is from “React Alliance” <https://www.reactalliance.org/>. Sheri will be talking about how the Alliance, intends to provide information on proposed projects so the public can make informed decisions and advocate for the best solutions to our energy needs. Their mission is to protect California's Central Coasts from the destructive impacts of offshore wind energy development. They seek to educate the public, advocate for informed decision-making, mobilize the community, collaborate with governing officials, and pursue legal action when necessary.

SPEAKER FOR APRIL WAS NINA SPINELLO:

Nina Spinello was our speaker on April 23, 2024. She is a student at Cuesta College, hoping to transfer to Cal Poly in the fall. Nina is the President of Turning Point U.S.A. San Luis Obispo County Activism Hub. She works alongside the Cal Poly Turning Point presidents, Madison and Josh. Nina is a local who has lived here since the eighth grade. She went to Templeton High School. While there she was the alternative student representative on the school board. Nina said her mother and father raised her with very astute values! Those values shined through as she talked with us!

After graduating from high school in 2018, she went to Sarah Lawrence College, an east coast liberal arts private school. Nina joked that Sarah Lawrence, a sister school which originally allowed women to attend the Ivy system, is no longer all women – it’s 30% women and 70% they/thems! In 2020, Nina decided she didn’t want to go there any longer.

Nina talked about Turning Point U.S.A. It is a non profit, educational organization. It is run by Charlie Kirk, a well known, God-driven conservative who has a podcast, among many other platforms which are primarily geared toward educating young students interested in conservative issues. Turning Point’s goal is to empower informed civic and cultural engagement that is grounded in American exceptionalism and positive spirit of action. Nina said that in a world where so many young people are being swallowed by corrupt agendas and misinformation, Turning Point acts as a beacon of light amidst the storm. It offers students a sense of community, a community that is built on free markets, the importance of freedom, and limited government. Most of all, at the core of everything Charlie Kirk and Turning Point stand for is love and worship of God.

Nina offered a valuable glimpse into her world as a student navigating the system of higher education. She has had first-hand experience dealing with corrupt professors who were set on indoctrinating their students, but she said that has not been her experience at Cuesta College. Cuesta is so much better than the education she was getting at the college back east. It is not perfect, because nothing is, but she has been able to maintain her conservative values while pursuing her degree at Cuesta.

The Cuesta and Cal Poly Turning Point chapters work closely together to organize social and political events for students on both campuses. Cal Poly went from 5 members last year to 30 members this year! What put Cal Poly on the road to Turning Point was an event called “A De-transitioner and Dad Speak on the Transgender Ideology Movement.” Chloe Cole, who is an 18 year old de-transitioner, talked about how, at 15, she underwent a double mastectomy, was on all the puberty blockers and all the hormone treatments. At 17 she realized it was all a mistake. The dad was Billboard Chris, who is very active in the movement against the trans ideology. The event caused a HUGE controversy. There were over 400 protestors who came to stand against Chloe Cole. Nina was moved by Chloe’s story, and when she saw the protestors stand so passionately against Chloe, Nina decided that joining Turning Point would be the best way to fight against protestors like this!

The event received national recognition, and this led to Nina and other Turning Point members hosting an event where Charlie Kirk came to Cal Poly to do one of his “Prove Me Wrong” tables.

Charlie Kirk likes to come to college campuses, set up a table with a microphone, and ask students to challenge him. He says, “You disagree with me? Let’s talk about it!” The Cal Poly event was one of the largest turnouts that Charlie Kirk has ever had at a Prove Me Wrong” table event! It broke records. Over 700 students attended. At one point the crowd broke into an impromptu singing of the National Anthem, which drowned out the chants of the few protestors who were there. Ironically, the protestors hid behind masks, hoods, sunglasses, signs, banners, and umbrellas and they didn’t want to talk to Charlie about their disagreements even though they had every opportunity to do so.

Nina brought us proof that although some places in this country are perhaps too far gone, San Luis Obispo is not. She said college is a blessing. Students’ principles and pride get tested. Students’ minds are enriched while debating openly. Sometimes, in order to avoid indoctrination, students must develop critical thinking skills, which is a good thing! Turning point has given Nina hope because other students at her school share her ideas. With Turning point she is not alone.

Nina is planning an upcoming event. It will be a Q and A panel about the wind farm in Morro Bay. Speakers from both sides of the debate will present their sides. Nina will ask questions, and the audience can ask questions too. This will take place at 6 pm either on Monday May 6, or Tuesday, May 7. When the date is set, Nina will get the information to headquarters. Also, there will be emails and a radio announcement to let the public know. It was great to hear from such a dynamic, hard working, personable young leader!

2024 Caring For America

The month of April we collected an amazing $1000.00. In the month of May, the ARWF will continue to support and bless Kyndal Gottfried a second grader that attends Monterey Road elementary School and lives in Atascadero. Kyndal has been battling Medulloblastoma for three years, and she and her mother have been flying to Georgia for her clinical trials for the past year. Her mother, Raquel, is a single mother and Atascadero native who is manager at the Atascadero In-N-Out. She graduated from Atascadero High School in 2005.

Kyndal's cancer journey began with treatment in 2021 at the Children's Hospital in Houston. After a year of treatment, they were ecstatic with the news of her remission. Unfortunately, a few months later, her cancer returned. After Kyndal was diagnosed again, she began treatment at the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles.

When the treatment was deemed unsuccessful, Raquel cast a wide net to find a clinical trial that would work for Kyndal's specific cancer. That is where they found a clinical trial in Augusta, Georgia. They have organized two fundraisers and spread the word via newspapers and KSBY news. They feel incredibly grateful for the outpouring of love and support both emotionally and financially from this community, however the travel costs have been more costly than expected.

At the May meeting, the Caring for America Committee will be collecting donations for Kyndal and her mother to help ease some of the travel expenses for her treatments in Georgia. Let's bless this family with our support and love.
